Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Krowech et al. Krowech et al teaches a lance device (36) including a frame, guide and pneumatic reciprocating drive means, in the embodiments of figures 2-4 for example, which can be operated in the manner recited in the instant claims, thereby showing all aspects of the above claims.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Woodings et al. Woodings et al teaches a lance device (the drill shaft) including a frame, guide and reciprocating pneumatic drive means, in the embodiments of figures 2 and 3 for example, which can be operated in the manner recited in the instant claims, thereby showing all aspects of the above claims since the drill meets the general description of a lance.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Each of Ice, Jr. et al and Kruger are also cited as further examples of prior art.
